Dear Carlyle,

I really have had a lot of fun with you in Latin this year. It was always you who did the translating.

I am going to miss you very much next year cause you have always been so sweet to me. I may not have shown it but I love you very much and appreciate everything you have done for me.

Be good next year and have a lot of fun. Think about me and I will about you - Love,

Kelin Jones

Dear Carlyle;

Whenever I want to express something in an annual that I really mean and glance over each page and see - "Best wishes to a swell kid" - I don't enjoy the message as I would if someone ~~was~~ writing (?) a long message. I am writing this exactly as I feel - you are one of the leading personalities in this school. Next year when you are a senior I know how you'll feel. I have enjoyed this year with you very much. I'm only sorry that we couldn't have known each other sooner. You've been kind in helping me with my Latin. That class has been the grandest class that I've ~~ever~~ been in. I'm sorry to graduate and leave such a fine class - the seniors. Although we had bad times, I really think it was all in fun. Being a Freshman at UNC, I'm surely going to be homesick, and I'll miss everyone of you.

Best wishes

Harold

Class History

Seniors, we made it. All's over, but the shouting or frowning as the case may be. But before we graduate, and people forget about the Class of 1945; let's look back on what's happened to us.

Remember the big building, and how it felt to be a Freshman! After a few weeks of razzing we knew. Even then we longed to be Seniors. Bobby Wettach was president of Student Government and among other things we had an active Hi-Y Club, a band, dramatics, and a tennis team. Lee Wiley was our class president and we spent our monthly class meetings writing a constitution. This was also the year the boys and the girls first tried to understand each other.

Then came the tragic fire in the summer of 1942. We were like orphans, left without a home. That was perhaps the darkest moment in the history of the Class.

The following fall when the new school year began, the Baptist Church took pity on us and graciously allowed us to use part of their building. Mr. Buckner was the new principal and with Billy Cheek as Student Government president, we started our sophomore year. This was the year that the new Eighth Grade was added. The new set-up left us still the youngest class in high school. That year Collier Cobb was the class president and under his leadership the class took great strides forward. Important events of the year were the spring production of H.M.S. Pinafore, which proved to be a great success, the rebuilding from scratch of the Library, and the first publication of the printed Proconian. Time passed quickly and soon another chapter in our class history was completed.

The following fall found us still in the Baptist Church, but soon we realized that it was time for us to move on to new stamping grounds. For days the air was filled with rumors until that fateful autumn morn when we slowly plod our weary way to what was to be our last home—the Cone House. In less than two years we had traversed from the heights of good to the depths of evil—from a Church to a fraternity house. Our goal was now in sight. Then came the first of Miss Anderson's great defeats. It was the annual Junior Magazine sale, and confident and proud to the last, Miss Anderson saw her greatest hopes dashed to pieces as the Junior Boys with a last minute spurt, rallied to send her and her girls to the doom of defeat. Early in the year preparations were begun for the annual Junior-Senior and when this much-heralded event finally became a reality, all went home with satisfaction in their hearts, if not in their stomachs. Sam Summerlin was our president that year and presided at the dinner-dance. Elections of Junior Marshals and the handing in of a few late history contracts closed our third year at C.H.H.S.

And then came our Senior year. We even felt different that first day. With Bill Olsen as our President we soon began to learn the worries we were to have to bear as Seniors. Class rings had to be ordered as did invitations, and caps and gowns. Work was begun on the Annual and continued throughout the year. And then there were the Juniors. Never in history had so few thought so much of so little. This was the year that the dream of the weekly printed Proconian became a realization. At Christmastime, amid the shouts of barkers, auctioning of pictures, giving of prizes, and the collapsing of the movie booth, the Proconival was deemed a huge success and over $100 was taken in. The C.A.P. and a swimming team were organized. Helen Jane Wettach was the school president. With new uniforms and expert coaching the school's athletic teams prospered and the athletic year was a good one.

And so we leave the High School after four long and hard years. Behind us we leave what we consider an impressive record in scholastics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities. To carry with us we have the memories of a few disappointments, but also the realization of many successes. In our hearts we have but one regret—that the four years have passed so swiftly. Wherever we go or whatever we do, we shall never forget our happy days at Chapel Hill High School.

Class Poem

*Down the long aisle
In the measured rhythm of stately music
We march, the rows of faces
Upturned to us, who, leaving now,
Go out to the new day
That dawns for us.
This music, place, and time
Mean more than just the words.
They signify the happy times that we Have spent with friends and those
Who helped us to make ready
For what may lie ahead.
The memory of this and of our school
Will help us. We shall not go alone;
For in our memories, forever,
We shall be there.
When we are scattered
And each has gone his way,
We'll pause, look back remembering,
And then go on.*

Activities

Student Council Officers

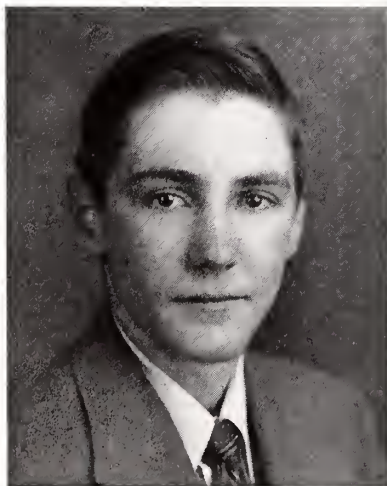

HELEN JANE WETTACH

A hard-working and conscientious president, Helen Jane proved herself a leader throughout the year and was a constant crusader for a better school and a better student government.

JIMMY BLAKE

Jimmy, as vice-president, filled in notably in the absence of the president and was a powerful influence in the formation of the new athletic council.

BILL BROWNE

Although burdened with a never-ending task, Bill showed himself to be a good business man, as well as a good mathematician in his job as treasurer.

ARDIE HAMILTON

Ardie, with her original shorthand system, proved herself to be an industrious and competent council secretary.

Student Council

THE 1944-45 STUDENT COUNCIL

FIRST ROW: Jimmy Blake (Vice-President), Ardie Hamilton (Secretary), Helen Jane Wettach (President), Bill Browne (Treasurer), Mr. Honeycutt (Adviser).

SECOND ROW: Neal Creighton, Roy Parker, Bootsie Taylor, Janet Ellington, Pat Hole, Harold Cheek, Colbert Leonard, Barbara Cashion.

THIRD ROW: Frank Pittman, Adrian Lineberger, Gordon Ingwerson, Johnny Gobbel, Ward Peacock, David Sharpe.

The perennial center of Student Government, the Student Council, again in 1944-45, served the high school well, as it led the way in planning and developing a better and more beneficial school for all.

Capably led by President Helen Jane Wettach, the Student Council showed its efficiency through such acts as the promotion of basketball parties, clean-up drives, war bond sales, Red Cross and TB seal campaigns, and other worthwhile projects.

Throughout the year the Council was a group that listened attentively and gave clear thinking to whatever school problems that were to be solved.

In his post as advisor, Mr. Honeycutt was on hand throughout the year to assist with and supervise the actions of this body.

Activities

EDITOR CASHION

Proconian

Appearing in a printed regular format for the first time in its fourteen year history, the Proconian reached an all-time high in the 1944-45 year, as it became the only printed high school weekly in the State.

Behind the spirited and capable leadership of Editor Barbara Cashion, a large and hard-working staff was assembled and developed at the start of the school year and enabled smooth and speedy production of the thirty-odd issues which came off the press during the year.

Leading highlight of the new set-up was the addition of photographs to many of the year's editions, products of capable staff photographer, Robert Brooks.

STAFF EDITORS

FIRST ROW SEATED: Frances Ellinger (Feature Editor), Billy Carmichael (Associate Editor), Barbara Cashion (Editor), Rebekah Huggins (Business Manager), Sammy Ross (Publicity Editor).

SECOND ROW: Erwin Danziger (Advertising Editor), Houston Teague (Sports Editor), Venitah Sanders (Entertainment Chairman), Harold Cheek (Exchange Editor), David Sharpe (Editorial Editor).

THIRD ROW: Stanley Cohen (Classified Ad Editor), E. C. Smith (Circulation Manager), Rodney Waters (Current Events Editor), Robert Brooks (Staff Photographer).

STAFF REPORTERS

FIRST ROW: Jean Cashion, Jean Vashaw, Jeanne Whitfield, Phyllis Ferguson, Ardie Hamilton.

SECOND ROW: Bootsie Lyons, Betty Ward Sparrow, Jane Sparrow, Colbert Leonard, Roy Parker, Preston Carroll, Harold Cannon.

THIRD ROW: Meg Curry, Helen Phillips, Charles Bartlett, Jimmy Blake, Bill Browne, George Cummins.

ADVISER MANCI

A large staff of reporters were on hand at all times to collect, write, and interpret each week's news. Brunt of the feature writing was carried by Rodney Waters (news analysis), Rebekah Huggins and Billy Carmichael (humor), and David Sharpe (editorials). Athletic news was expertly reported by Sports Editor Houston Teague.

Faculty adviser and overseer for the year was Miss Florence Mancini, high school English teacher, whose tireless aid and assistance were a contributing factor in the success of the entire organization.

The 1944-45 school year saw the realization of a great dream — the weekly printed Proconian and the assured future of publications in Chapel Hill High School.

Activities

Hilllife

Overflowing with new ideas and new methods, the 1945 Hilllife staff, organized last December under the supervision of Editor Billy Carmichael, worked throughout the winter and early spring to give to the students of Chapel Hill High School, what they hope to be its best annual in the twenty years of publication.

For the first time in Hilllife history the majority of the pictures appearing in the volume were made by staff members, notably Robert Brooks. Throughout the year many obstacles rose in the path of publication, but each obstacle was overcome in turn, through the efforts of Assistant Editors, Colbert Leonard, Helen Phillips, and John Gobbel; Business Manager Harold Cheek; their staffs; and lastly, Staff Adviser and Counselor, Mrs. Helen L. Macon.

THIRD Row: Bill Sonntag, Jane Sparrow, Marie Hackney, Helen Jane Wettach, Leonard Smith, Johnny Gobbel (Sports Editor), Bobby Cornwell, Bill Browne.

Girl Reserves

Capably led by President Helen Phillips the 1944-1945 year was another successful year for the Girl Reserves. The year's activities consisted of help in community projects, selling of war stamps and Christmas seals, serving in clinics, making of toys, a mammoth rummage sale, and several parties and entertainments.

Through the year this organization, as in past years, contributed a great public service not only to their community, but to the school they represented.

Library Club

Although hampered by the lack of available time, the Library Club, under the direction of Librarian Helen M. Peacock, carried on during the school year 1944-45 the fine work that it had begun in past years.

With Carlyle Markham as president, the Club held meetings whenever time permitted. During the meetings, the problems of the library were discussed by the members and instruction on the correct uses of the library were given by Mrs. Peacock.

Probably the hardest working but least known of all the school organizations is the Office Staff. These students volunteer their time from study hall each day in order to run errands and help out with the many tasks that must be taken care of in connection with running the office.

SPORTS . . .

. . . "The Mighty Wildcats"

Football

Although starting the season with a new coach, Marine Ben Hathaway, and new equipment, presented by certain local citizens and organizations, the 1944 edition of the Chapel Hill High School football team did not live up to the undefeated record of the 1943 squad as it won only three games, while losing four and tying one.

It took Coach Hathaway's boys a few weeks to get started, as they took two consecutive lacings, one at the hands of Methodist Orphanage, 30-0, and the other, Hillsboro, 28-0. The next week the Cats bounced back and finally hit the victory trail with a 20-0 win over Bragtown. The following week the Hillians journeyed to Siler

COACH HATHAWAY

AND CO-CAPTAINS CARROLL AND LLOYD

City where they played the home team to a 7-7 tie in a much-disputed contest.

The next two weeks saw the Chapel Hill boys lose their second games of the season to Hillsboro, 14-6, and the Methodist Orphanage, 32-0.

At this point, another Marine, Tom Lane, took over the squad when Hathaway was transferred to boot camp, and under his tutelage, the Wildcats went on to win their last two games, a 12-7 thriller from Bragtown in a night game in Durham, and a 20-0 victory in a return engagement with Siler City.

Standouts in the line throughout the season were Leonard Smith, Bush, Blake, Wimp Carroll, E. C. Smith, Olsen, Holleman, and Bernard Lloyd, while Preston Carroll, Farrington, Carmichael, Gobbel, Ingwersen, and Cornwell did most of the backfield work.

EARL BUSH

"Ull" playing his first year of Varsity ball was well known for his pass snagging. Also he proved to be a big asset on defense.

MEBANE DURHAM

Mebane never stopped fighting and was one of the main substitutes on the team.

LEONARD SMITH

Leonard was probably the best defensive player on the team, and many of the Wildcats' opponents will remember his hard tackles. He was equally skillful at pass receiving, and his all-round good play served Chapel Hill at all times.

JACK MCCAULEY

Jack made up for his small size with his fighting spirit and was tops with his teammates.

Sports

JIMMY BLAKE

"Blake" was our most outstanding blocker who was noted for his ability to open big holes in the opposing line. He was equally at home in the backfield playing the first game of the season at Fullback.

SMITTY LINEBERGER

"Smitty" was one of the best tacklers on the team and his defensive play was excellent. He can be looked to for great things in the future.

BILL OLSEN

Many times during games huge holes would open up allowing C. H. H. S. backs to romp through. "Ole," with his beautiful blocking was one of the main causes for these holes.

JOHN BOONE

Although only a sub, he showed great spirit and promise for next year's team.

RAEFORD PERRY

"Scrappy" lived up to his nickname and was always fighting for C. H. H. S.

EMMET PENDERGRAFT

The experience he received as a sub this year should stand him in good stead for the Varsity team next season.

BERNARD LLOYD

Bernard went out for quarterback when practice opened, but was substituted at guard in the Cats' first game. Because of his skillful blocking and tackling, he was made first string guard.

E. C. SMITH

Although "Sunny" was only a freshman, his blocking and tackling earned him a place in the starting lineup.

Sports

DWIGHT WRIGHT

Although small, Dwight's ability to back up the line on defense was proven many times as a relief center.

FRANK PITTMAN

Although Frank was small and inexperienced he became a big help to the team.

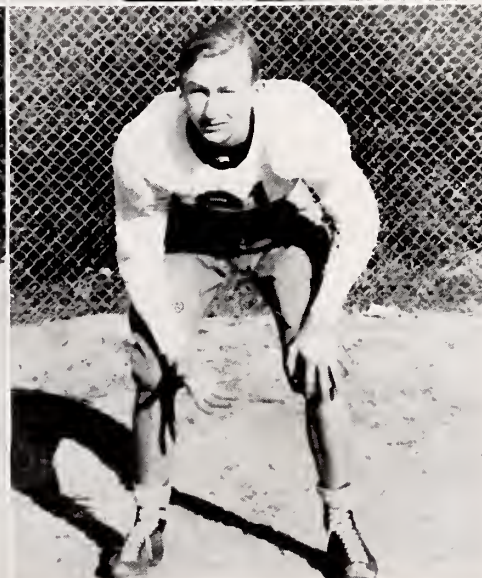

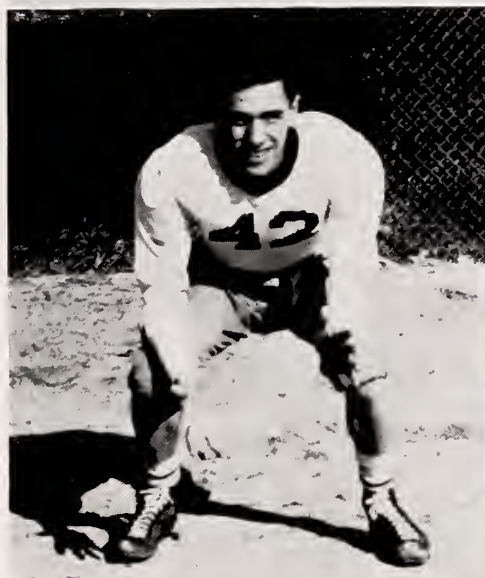

BILL HOLLEMAN

Bill was a fine all-round player. His playing at center would have been hard to beat. Also he excelled in backing up the line on defense.

BILL BROWNE

Because of his spirit Bill was well liked by everyone on the squad.

PRESTON CARROLL

Preston was the individual star of the team. His hard and fast running, superb passing, and beautiful punting would have earned him a berth on the all-state team if he had played for a larger school.

JOHNNY GOBBEL

John was the quietest ball carrying member of the team. He could always be counted on in running back a punt. He was also one of the main pass receivers. His cool head and determination was the factor in the clicking of the "T" formation.

BILLY CARMICHAEL

"Corny's" excellent signal calling was one of the main factors in Chapel Hill's last two victories. He caught several passes that netted many yards and a touchdown for the Wildcats.

BOBBY CORNWELL

Bob was a superior pass receiver and his tackles really shook the opponents.

Sports

*Best of luck
To a very nice girl,
Gordon
Ingwersen*

GORDON INGWERSEN

Gordon's drive and power made him one of the best ball carriers on the team.

G. S. BALDWIN

G. S.'s fine job as football manager was one of the outstanding features of the past season.

ABSENT:

JOHN CANNADA

"Bear" didn't come out for the team until late in the season. His 265 pounds really held the opposing team to a stand-still.

FRANK FEARRINGTON

"Crip" was the most colorful player on the team. Also he was good on down-field blocking.

WINFRED CARROLL

When "Wimp" left for the Navy about mid-season the team was sorely crippled. His exceptionally fine, hard hitting play at tackle helped C. H. out of many a tight spot.

PAUL PLUMMER

Paul's blocking was a big help to C. H. H. S.'s offense.

SNOOKY SPARROW

Although he was the smallest Wildcat of them all, Snooky with his hard work as manager put many of the older boys to shame.

Basketball

Playing its first season under the newly acquired coach, Bud Stanbach, the Chapel Hill High School basketball team of 1945 made an impressive record for itself in winning ten games while losing seven.

Sparked by Forward Jimmy Blake, who tallied a total of 109 points for the season, the Wildcats played well throughout the season and were well-known for their aggressiveness and their fighting spirit.

Blake, together with John Egbert, Preston Carroll and George Cummins were the standouts for Chapel Hill at forwards, while at center Cornwell and Olsen led the way. Gobbel, Carmichael and Ross carried the brunt of the duties at guard.

COACH STANBACH

1945 C. H. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM

FIRST ROW: John Egbert, Gordon Ingwersen, Bobby Cornwell, Bill Olsen, Bill Carmichael (Co-Captain), Adrian Lineberger.

SECOND ROW: Jack McCauley, Sammy Ross, Preston Carroll, Johnny Gobbel (Co-Captain), Houston Teague, George Cummins, Jimmy Blake, Lawrence Cheek.

MASCOT: "Snooky" Sparrow.

BILL OLSEN

Bill used his height to an advantage and was tops in getting the ball off the backboard. Although hook shots were his specialty he was also a constant threat with his set shots.

JOHNNY GOBBEL

A crack shot and an expert ball handler, John's fine play throughout the season was the margin of victory in many close contests.

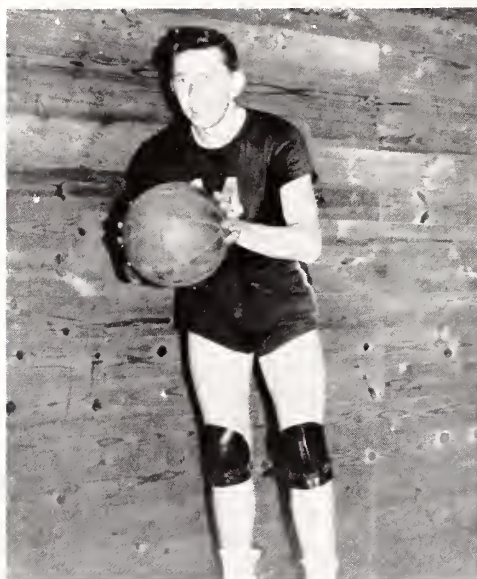

BOBBY CORNWELL

His speed and excellent passing made Bob one of the mainstays in the Cats' fast break. Playing the pivot for Chapel Hill his hook shots were superb, and his sure passing accounted for many of Chapel Hill's points.

BILLY CARMICHAEL

Billy's set shots were always dangerous and pulled the Cats through many tough spots. He was one of the best, if not the best, guards on the team.

Sports

JIMMY BLAKE

Jimmy's alertness and sure shooting were the main factors that made him high scorer for Chapel Hill High. You could always find "Blake" under the basket following up a shot.

GEORGE CUMMINS

George was one of the main substitutes for the varsity and when he was in a game his fine shooting was a big threat.

PRESTON CARROLL

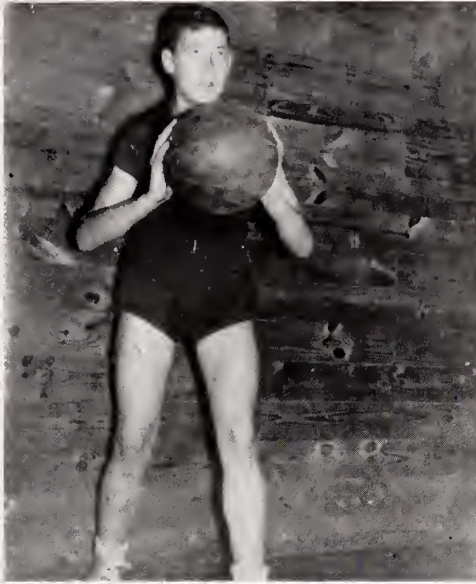

Preston's speed and drive served the basketball team as it did the football team. His ability to steal the ball was always dangerous to the opposing team.

JOHN EGBERT

With his flashy one hand shots and all around good offensive play, John proved himself one of the best players on the team and should have an excellent future.

Gordon Ingwersen

JACK MCCAULEY

Jack was a good shot and gave promise of a bright future.

GORDON INGWERSEN

Although only a sophomore, Gordon showed great basketball ability and led the "B" team in scoring.

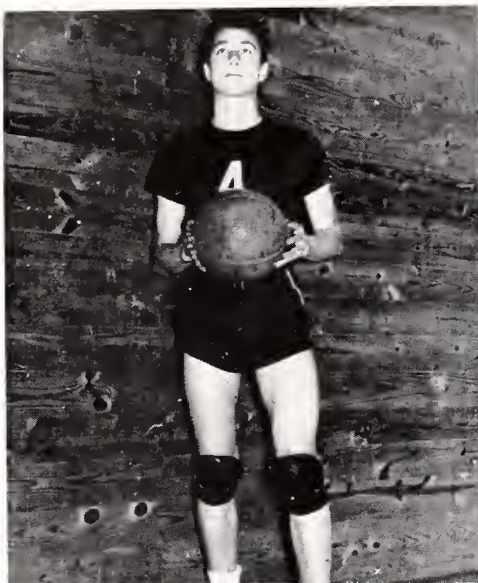

LAWRENCE CHEEK

Lawrence was only a freshman but was one of the best set-shots on the team.

BILL BROWNE

A hard-working guard, Bill played well throughout the season and was one of Coach Stanbach's most able replacements.

Sports

SMITTY LINEBERGER

"Smitty" was one of the best men on the team under the basket, and with some experience should prove very valuable in the future years.

HOUSTON TEAGUE

Hucy showed up brilliantly in several games and promises to become an excellent basketball player. He was always a favorite of the crowd and of the team.

SAM ROSS

Although only a freshman, Sam played well throughout the year and will probably star for the Cats in the years to come.

BILL SMITH

Smitty's fine work as assistant to Coach Bud Stanbach was one of the leading factors of the Cats' winning team.

Swimming

For the first time in the athletic history of the high school, Chapel Hill was represented by a swimming team. Under the direction of the University swimming coach, Willis Casey, arrangements were made to allow interested members of the student body to compete at this sport.

Throughout the season abundant material was on hand with Rodney Waters, Bobby Phillips, Robert Brooks, Stanley Cohen, and Sonny Smith leading the way.

Practice was conducted throughout the latter part of the winter and continued into the early spring, at which time the team took part in several meets.

Girls' Basketball

Although hampered by injuries and the lack of experience, the 1945 Chapel Hill High School girls' basketball team under the watchful eye of Coach Mary Jane Lloyd went through a season of stirring victories and heart-breaking defeats.

Led on offense by Dot Hogan and on defense by Barbara Cashion, the girls played well throughout the year and drew much praise from the coaches of their opponents.

Other standouts for the girls were Ardie Hamilton, Jackie Scott, Betty Schulmerich, and Bootsie Taylor at guards, and Betty Ward Sparrow, Evelyn Merritt, and Helen Phillips at forwards.

Baseball

With Bud Stanbach taking over the coaching duties as he had done during basketball season, the Chapel Hill High School baseball team entered another successful year.

Led in the hitting department by Preston Carroll and in the pitching department by Bernard Lloyd, the Wildcats displayed throughout the season the fighting spirit necessary to have a winning team.

Other standouts for the Hillians were Gobbel, Teague, Rat Lloyd, Riggsbee, Cheek and Holleman in the infield and Roy Lloyd, Carmichael, Bush, Womble, Olsen, and Farrell in the outfield. Blake, Lineberger, Smith, Durham and Perry filled out the squad, handling the pitching and catching duties.

Acknowledgments

In completing this 1945 edition of Hillife, I feel that I cannot finish my work until I have made several acknowledgments to those without whose help this book could never have been published.

To Robert Brooks, whose exact and tireless work is exhibited in many of the pictures which appear in this volume.

To Mr. Moore, of Wootten-Moulton, to whom I am indebted for the Senior pictures and the glamour shots which are found in this book.

To Mr. Pugh, of the Orange Printshop, and his entire staff, especially G. K. "Stumpy" Hilliard, to whom I am indebted for the patient and tireless efforts they have shown in the attempt to make this book a success.

To my staff editors, Colbert Leonard, Helen Phillips, John Gobbel, and their staffs who worked long, hard hours on the material contained in this volume.

To Harold Cheek and his staff, to whom I am indebted for the financial handling of this publication.

To Harold Cannon, whose ideas and inspiration helped to surmount many an obstacle.

To Mrs. Helen L. Macon, whose persistent vigilance kept this edition of Hillife in the black column and whose aid and assistance in editing this book were invaluable.

To Mr. Honeycutt, Mrs. Myers and the other faculty members who so graciously assisted in the preparation of this book.

To Miss Pilley and her battery of typists who helped to prepare the copy contained in this book.

To the local merchants, without whose help this annual could not have been published.

And to all the other persons who assisted in any way with the publication of this 1945 Hillife, and whose names are not listed here because of negligence or lack of space, I express my appreciation and thanks for what you have done.

It is my wish and hope that this book will be satisfying to all and that the 1945 edition of Hillife will find a lasting place in the home of everyone who owns one.

BILLY CARMICHAEL, III, Editor.

Salutes the Graduating Class of 1945

We are proud of the part we have in supplying our Navy with 20mm HEI ammunition. We have served to the best of our ability since the incorporation of our plant on February 17, 1942 as evidenced by the following record.

On December 24, 1942, six months after the first 20mm shell rolled off our assembly line, we were awarded the Army-Navy Production Award for "outstanding production of war materials." This award has been renewed three times by addition of the customary star. The first star was awarded June 15, 1943; the second on January 14, 1944, the third on July 20, 1944, and the fourth on December 23, 1944.

On November 26, 1942, 100% of our employees agreed to have War Bonds deducted from their wages, thereby gaining the Treasury Department Flag for this achievement. This was followed on December 10, 1942, by the addition of the "T" to the Treasury Flag, showing that employees were investing 10% or more of their gross earnings in the regular purchase of War Bonds through payroll deduction.

While producing this ammunition for our fighting Navy we were not unmindful of the dangers involved and so at all times every precaution was taken to prevent carelessness and sabotage. As a reward for these efforts we were, on May 25, 1944, presented the National Security Award by the United States Office of Civilian Defense. Ours was the first award given in North Carolina and one of the first to be made in the United States.

Yes, we are proud of our production achievements, but we point with even more pride to our 217 former employees now in the armed forces of this nation—especially Ormand Crabtree, Clarence Jones, William Merritt and Lorenzo Thompson—who gave their lives in order that we might live to advance the freedoms they so jealously guarded.

Dear Carlyle.

It's a pity we had you this year though. I'm terribly sorry you didn't get to be secretary, because I think you would have been the best secretary we could have had. Guess I'll see you next year.
Hope so anyway.

Carlyle, I'm sure
I'll never be able to find another
smile as cheerful as yours! Keep smiling, you'll get

June 1945

Dearest Carlyle,

At the end of our junior year, already, and so much more to learn in just one year more. Do you think we'll ever feel as big again as we will next year at this time? I feel pretty good already, and starting Thursday morning, you will please remember I am a SENIOR. Won't it be wonderful, then? And just think what an improvement on the annual when they have our smiling faces in it. But next year is next year and an annual is supposed to be a view in retrospect of the past year. This year seems to have just whizzed by doesn't it, (although it did take a long time in whizzing). I remember my resolution to study hard. (Ha-Ha!) that collapsed pretty quick didn't it?

Then there was the Christmases dances! they were pretty good and you looked beautiful (now, pay me) but they couldn't compare with the Jr. Sr. I wish you had been with us at our table.) But I guess the thing I remember most is going to church with you and Easter Communion. I remember how both of us were kind of doubtful; we wanted to believe, but Hell, after listening to Mr. Yates and Emmett. I don't think I'll ever feel that way again. How about you?

And the way you treated me when I was in the hospital, sending me ~~floor~~ books and letters everyday. That meant more to me than you can ever know. Thanks so much.

This summer I can promise you we'll have a wonderful time with Pee-wee and the rest of the kids.

With all my love,
joyce

and Best Wishes
